The GoFlex™ Net media sharing device allows you to access and share your digital life with anyone, anywhere. Centralize your files to a single location and access them with any networked PC or Mac® computer in your home or over the Internet. Create a shared space for your friends to download photos, movies and music you choose to share and allow them to upload their own content they choose to share with you.

The GoFlex Net media sharing device works with GoFlex™ ultra-portable drives and any other USB storage devices to be shared on your local network or accessed remotely via the Internet. GoFlex ultra-portable drives simply slide into the GoFlex Net media sharing device, making it easy to add more storage capacity or remove when you want to take the drive with you while on-the-go. Additional storage devices can be plugged into the rear-mounted USB 2.0 port. The GoFlex Net media sharing device simultaneously supports two GoFlex ultra-portable drives and one additional USB storage device, so you will never have to worry about running out of storage space. Plus, you will be able to access your files with incredible speed thanks to the Gigabit Ethernet connectivity.

Getting Started
The installation process couldn't be any easier. Simply connect your GoFlex Net media sharing device to your router and visit a webpage to activate and automatically configure the device – no firewall settings to configure and no networking knowledge required. Once activated, you can access all your files with a clean, web-based interface using your favorite web-browser. The same interface is used to view files from any networked computer in your home and outside of the home when accessing files remotely. The web interface displays all the files on all of the drives you have connected to the GoFlex Net media sharing device, along with all of the files shared with you by other GoFlex Net media sharing device owners.

You can easily navigate the GoFlex Net interface with thumbnail and list view, search by file name or filter by media type. The GoFlex Net media sharing device also appears as a local drive on your computer, so that you can easily navigate and drag-and-drop files just like a USB drive physically attached to your computer. There is even a free mobile app available for iPad®, iPhone®, Blackberry® and Android® devices, enabling you to access your content while you are away from home. Plus, the app allows you to send pictures and videos straight from your smart phone to a folder on the GoFlex Net media sharing device.

Access & Sharing Made Easy
The GoFlex Net media sharing device offers one of the easiest ways to share files with friends and family – anywhere in the world. Simply type in your friends' email addresses and they will automatically receive an email linked to the folders or files you chose to share with them. They will now have access to their own GoFlex Net interface which displays all of the files shared with them. If your friends also have a GoFlex Net media sharing device, they will not only see their own files, but all of the files shared with them in the same interface.

Integrate with your favorite social media sites such as Facebook®, Twitter®, and MySpace® and keep your friends in the loop with easy-to-publish RSS feeds. RSS feeds allow you keep the content you share the most up-to-date. Instead of constantly uploading new photos to your favorite social media page, simply copy and paste a single RSS link from the GoFlex Net folder that contains the pictures you want to share. Now, every time you add pictures to that particular folder on the GoFlex Net media sharing device, they will automatically appear on your social media page.
